Box REISSUE

Sir:

1. I, Tamotsu Koiwai, a Japanese citizen, have read the foregoing specification and claims, and I verily believe that I, together with Tatsuya Suzuki, am the original, first inventor of the invention entitled LENS BARREL HAVING A FLARE DIAPHRAGM WHICH CAN ADVANCE INTO AND RETREAT FROM THE OPTICAL PATH TO ELIMINATE DELETERIOUS LIGHT RESULTING FROM MOVEMENT OF THE LENS and which is described and claimed in United States Patent No. 5,978,160, issued November 2, 1999, and that I do not know and do not believe that this invention was ever known or used in the United States before my invention or discovery thereof.

Applicant: Koiwai et al.
Application No.: Not Yet Known

2. I verily believe that I, together with Tatsuya Suzuki, am the original, first inventor of the invention entitled LENS BARREL HAVING A FLARE DIAPHRAGM WHICH CAN ADVANCE INTO AND RETREAT FROM THE OPTICAL PATH TO ELIMINATE DELETERIOUS LIGHT RESULTING FROM MOVEMENT OF THE LENS and which is described and claimed in the Reissue Application filed herewith, together with my Declaration and that I do not know and do not believe that this invention was ever known or used in the United States before my invention or discovery thereof.

3. I hereby state that I have reviewed and understand the contents of the above-identified issued patent, including the specification and claims, as amended, as shown in the Preliminary Amendment accompanying this Reissue Declaration.

4. I acknowledge a duty to disclose information which is material to the examination of this application in accordance with Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 1.56(a).

5. I further pray that I may be allowed to surrender the aforesaid United States Patent No. 5,978,160, issued November 2, 1999, and that such Letters Patent may be reissued to me for the same invention upon the foregoing amended claims. With this Petition is filed an Order for an Abstract of Title, duly certified, as is required in such cases.

6. I declare that the above-identified patent is inoperative or invalid by reason of claiming less than I had a right to claim in the patent. More specifically, certain of the claims of the issued patent are unnecessarily limited due to the failure to recite that the flare diaphragm is deformed when the lens holding frame is moved in a given direction.

7. That on or about January 3, 2001 and after issuance of U.S. Patent No. 5,978,160, I was notified by U.S. counsel that it is possible to reissue my patent to broaden the claims if a reissue application is filed prior to November 2, 2001. I reviewed the '160 patent and discovered that the claims were unnecessarily limited by failure to recite limitations regarding the flexibility of the flare diaphragm so that the flare diaphragm is deformed when engaged by the lens or lens frame when the lens frame is moved in a given direction. See Figures 5-9 and column 5, lines 27-30. Claim 6 is limited to reciting a point on the flare diaphragm moves in and out of the optical path while another point along the flare diaphragm mains stationary. Claims 11 and 20 are limited to reciting a flare diaphragm is a flexible member; however, none of the claims recite a flare diaphragm deformed by a lens or lens frame. I brought my analysis of the objectives of the invention to the attention of patent counsel, who confirmed that the claims were so limited and advised that a reissue patent could be requested to correct the unnecessarily limited claims. Until such time, I was unaware that the claims were so limited. Patent counsel advised that the claims could be amended by way of a reissue proceeding and I authorized the filing of a reissue application.

Applicant: Koiwai et al.
Application No.: Not Yet Known

8. New claims 24-26 set forth in the Preliminary Amendment accompanying this Declaration, cure the limited nature of the original claims.

9. The errors set forth hereinabove occurred without deliberate or deceptive intent on my part.

10. I further declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issuing thereon.
